

National study of household energy use

Householder survey

Introduction

Thank you for agreeing to take part in the Household Energy End-use Project #2.

The aim of this short survey is to find out a bit about your home and appliances within it. This information will help us understand the energy usage data provided by your retailer.

All information collected as part of this study will be treated as confidential, held securely by Statistics New Zealand and BRANZ, and only be used for statistical or research purposes. We do not identify individuals in published statistics or research.

The survey should take less than 5 minutes to complete.
